

New Satellite Is Launched Into Orbit

Will Measure And Count Impacts With Space Debris And Report With "Squawks"

By HOWARD BENEDICT
CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — A Saturn 1 super rocket, performing flawlessly, hurled a "space bird" satellite into orbit today to measure meteors.

The space traveler's assignment was to measure and count the impacts with space debris and report back with electronic "squawks."

Soon after the launching word came from tracking stations that the satellite had unfolded its broad wings as planned, setting up a target to take and record the blows.

WATCH CLOSED TV
Personnel at the station on Antigua Island watched on a closed circuit space television network as that took place high above the Atlantic some 2,000 miles southeast of Cape Kennedy. Space agency officials said a camera mounted on the rocket's second stage provided clear pictures of the deployment.

With its broad wings, wider than those of a four-engine airliner — Pegasus is the third largest satellite ever launched. The space agency said it would be visible at night in areas over which it passed. Only the Echo 1 and 2 communications balloons are larger, with diameters of 100 and 135 feet respectively.

EIGHTH SUCCESS
It was the eighth success in a row for the big booster on which the United States counts for major manned space ventures.

The huge rocket blasted off at 9:37 a.m. with the satellite folded in its nose.

Eleven minutes later, the National Aeronautics and Space Administration reported that the rocket had done everything expected of it and had drilled into orbit. An announcement said a shroud covering the payload had been jettisoned.

SEEK THEAT
The radio report on the count, direction and force of the impacts is to help determine the threat these fast-moving bits of space debris pose to lengthy manned space missions.

The giant two-stage Saturn 1, believed to be the most powerful rocket in the world, blazed away from Cape Kennedy at 9:37 a.m. on the 1.5 million pounds of thrust generated by its first-stage powerplant, a cluster of eight engines.

About 15 seconds after launching the 19-story tall booster

2ND PETITION IS FILED ON ANNEXATION

The Adams County commissioners Monday filed a "petition of aggrieved party" in county court in connection with the proposed annexation of 307 acres of Conewago Twp. to Hanover.

A similar petition had been filed with the court Saturday by Conewago Twp. supervisors. Both petitions ask the court to appoint a board of commissioners to study the annexation proposal and report the facts.

Attorney Eugene R. Hartman presented the petition for the commissioners. The petition held that the boundaries established by the proposed annexation are "unnatural" and would make for "governmental and jurisdictional difficulties, injustice, confusion, discord and hardships."

SAY RESIDENTS OPPOSED
The proposal, according to the commissioners' petition, would "create a burden on remainder of the county's taxpayers and greatly affect the county's budget due to the large number of residents and large area of valuable land that would be taken."

The "unnatural" boundaries, it was held, would make difficult taxation, elections and other governmental services.

According to the petition "a number of freeholders of the area are opposed to the annexation and have expressed their opposition to the commissioners."

The petition also noted that there are "several large manufacturing plants in the area which properly belong to Conewago Twp."

PLAN BASEBALL CLINIC
Plans were made for a Fourth Grade baseball clinic, to be held Saturday morning at the National Guard Armory on W. Confederate Ave. The sessions will continue each Saturday morning for a number of weeks. The recreation board agreed to pay $10 per month for the Saturday morning use of the Armory.

Thompson reported, "Our winter program has grown almost as big as the summer program. We will have Saturday when the basketball clinic starts, 13 projects going this winter. That compares to 14 projects in the summertime. The number of participants also

FRANKLIN TWP. SCHOOL WILL GIVE MUSICAL

The Franklin Twp. Elementary School's winter musical program, "Mardi Gras—U.S.A.," will be presented in the school auditorium Friday evening at 7:30 o'clock under the direction of Mrs. Dorothy Ely Thomas of the faculty.

The program will include chorus numbers, song flutes, numbers by the Fifth and Sixth Grade bands and selections by a string quartette. Piano accompanists will be Debra Musselman, Carol Robert, Janet Wetzel and Dianne Hammann.

The program will begin with selections by pupils of Grade Six, directed by Mrs. Marie Kuhn and Mrs. Elizabeth Lewis. "Come to the Mardi Gras," by Oscar Strauss and Peter deRose's "I Hear America Singing."

PERIOD WAR SONGS
Then Grades Three and Four taught by Mrs. Carolyn Sell, will sing "Yankee Doodle" and "The Minuet" from Revolutionary War days.

The Civil War period will be represented by "The Battle Hymn of the Republic" and "When Johnny Comes Marching Home" by Grade Four pupils of Mrs. Cornelia Nunamaker.

Grade Five pupils of Miss Elaine Hartzell will sing "Over There" and "Long, Long Trail" from World War I days and the Fifth Grade band will play the "Caisson Song."

World War II days will be recalled when Fifth Graders of R. 2.

MISTRIAL IS RULED; JUROR CALLED POLICE

A mistrial was declared by the Adams County court this morning in the trial of Mack Arthur and Donna Jane Scott, Gettysburg, on charges of burglary and larceny and forgery.

Arguments by the prosecution and defense attorneys had been completed in the trial by Monday evening and all that had remained for the trial this morning was to be the charge to the jury by the court.

However at the opening of court when the charge was to begin Judge W. C. Sheely said a motion for a mistrial had been granted. Court attendants said the mistrial was declared because one of the members of the jury Monday night phoned Cpl. Harold W. Eckenrode, the state policeman who was the prosecutor in the case, apparently for more information.

FOUND INNOCENT
Cpl. Eckenrode had brought the charges against Mr. and Mrs. Scott and Glenn Edward Kint, Fairfield, in connection with the December 11 burglary of the Gettysburg Foundry Specialist Plant at Greenmont in which some money, a check-writer and the company checks were taken. Later some of these checks were forged and cashed. Kint had pleaded guilty to the charge and named Mr. and Mrs. Scott as accomplices in the theft and forgery. The Scotts denied complicity in the crimes.

At noon today a jury returned an innocent verdict in the charges of contributing to the delinquency of a minor and corrupting the morals of minors brought against Frederick W. Trent, Fairfield R. 2, but directed that Trent pay the costs. When the jury first returned about eight minutes of 12, the verdict had declared that the costs should be divided between the county and Trent.

The court noted that it had neglected to tell the jury that the county either pays all costs or none at all, and under the law costs cannot be divided between the county and a defendant. The jury then retired for about eight minutes before

ASK INCREASE IN RATES FOR FOSTER HOMES

The advisory committee for the Adams County Child Welfare Services will recommend to the county commissioners that the pay to foster home parents be raised from $1.35 to $1.50 a day per child starting in July. The sum covers "bed and board."

Decision to make the recommendation came following a report by the budget committee chairman, Luther Ritter, at Monday night's meeting of the committee in the Child Welfare offices in the Topper Building.

Discussed also was a recommendation that the commissioners provide a clothing allowance for children in foster homes. At present the foster parents report the need of clothing, and a check-up is made by child welfare workers who then request the commissioners to pay for the clothing. The committee was asked to make a study of the matter and report later.

SET DINNER DATE
Attorney S. M. Raffensperger, chairman for the annual dinner honoring the foster home parents, reported the session will be held April 22 at the Redeemer United Church of Christ, Littlestown.

Mrs. Paul Lerew, East Berlin, chairman of the membership committee, said her committee should have a report listing potential members for the advisory committee at next month's meeting.

Dr. Varnard Group reported preliminary studies on "goals to be sought by the Child Welfare Services during the coming year." Treasurer Brenda Walker reported a $358.33 balance. Rev.

In the account of the death of George A. Eiker, N. Stratton St., published Monday, the name of a surviving sister was given incorrectly. The name should have been Mrs. Joseph Lowe, Fairfield R. 2.

Lions Replenish Fund At Auction

Gettysburg Lions raised $92.25 for their convention fund Monday evening at an auction at their weekly dinner meeting at the Varsity Diner with M. P. Hartzell Jr. serving as auctioneer, assisted by Adrian Martin, the program chairman. The items sold were donated by members of the club.

President S. M. Raffensperger presided at the meeting with 41 members in attendance. He announced the assignment of Charles Edwards, who has transferred from the New Oxford Club, to the Boys' and Girls' Work and Youth Exchange committees. A meeting of the board of directors followed the club session.

The club will not meet next Monday, Washington's birthday.

RETAIL SALES IN ADAMS CO. JUMP 22.6 PCT.
Adams County had retail sales of $54,024,000 in 1963, an increase of 22.6 per cent from $44,051,000 in 1962, the Census Bureau said Monday.

The increases here were well above the state average of 13 per cent and even topped the national rate of increase which was 22 per cent, the Census Bureau report showed.

There were indications of suburban shopping increases with some losses in downtown shops in many parts of the state and nation. An example was in Harrisburg where retail sales dropped 14.2 per cent but Dauphin County's total was up 15 per cent.

AUTOS BIGGEST GAINER
Retail sales for the state in 1963 totaled $13,910,693,000, an increase of more than $1.5 billion in the five-year period.

Establishments covered by the census report include those primarily selling personal, household and farm merchandise, plus liquor stores operated by the state.

Automobile sales, up 30 per cent during the survey period, were the biggest gainer in the state. Gasoline service stations with sales up 21 per cent, reported the second largest gains.

OTHER BIG GAINS
Other big increases were recorded by department stores, up 20 per cent; liquor, up 20 per cent; drugstores, 15 per cent; eating and drinking establishments, 13 per cent; clothing and accessories, 10 per cent; and food nine per cent.

Furniture and home furnishings showed a two per cent decline, while lumber, building materials, hardware and farm dealers were down 3.5 per cent in sales.

In Cumberland County, retail sales were up 37 per cent since 1958 and in York County they were up 19 per cent.

Marlyn E. Yohe, Spring Grove R. 3, and Beverly J. Baker, Abbottstown R. 1, have filed application for a marriage license in York.

HEARING APPEALS

The Adams County commissioners this morning heard appeals from 13 taxpayers regarding assessments on real estate and occupations. Hearings were scheduled through early afternoon after which the board planned to review each case and make specific recommendations.

COMMITTEE OF 14 TO STUDY FEDERAL ACT

The Adams County commissioners today announced selection of a 14-man committee from throughout the county to study the federal Economic Opportunities Act and make recommendations to the commissioners whether all or any of the authorized programs should be attempted in the county.

First meeting of the committee will be held Thursday evening at 7:30 o'clock in the courtroom and the public is invited to attend to hear about the act from a representative of the program from Harrisburg.

George B. Inskip, assistant county superintendent of schools, who is general chairman for the advisory committee, said the public is particularly invited "to find out the details and give suggestions to us to help produce a better recommendation for action by the commissioners."

Various programs are permitted under the Economic Opportunity Act to help fight poverty including in-school programs to provide work experience and through payment for the work help keep potential "dropouts" in school until they graduate. Other programs cover a multitude of activities, all scheduled to provide training that will help upgrade the job capabilities of the persons participating.

Named by the commissioners as advisory committee, all listed by general area, are: Barlow area, John W. Schwartz; Fairfield area, Mr. Inskip; Cashtown area, Harry Biesecker; Arendtsville-Biglerville area, Henry Lower; Hunterstown area, Dale Taghian; York Springs area, Clyde Kennedy; Aspers-Bendersville-Gardners area, Ward Taylor; Abbotstown-East Berlin area, Stuart Lucabough; McSherrystown area, George Miller; New Oxford area, Robert Post; Littlestown area, Walter C. Myers; Bonneville area, Joseph Clabaugh; Gettysburg area, Attorney S. M. Raffensperger; Centennial-Edge Grove-Irishtown area, Robert Gebhart.

NEW PREMIER OF S. VIET NAM IS SWORN IN; BUDDHISTS ARE STRONGLY REPRESENTED

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Dr. Phan Huy Quat, who left his home in North Viet Nam when the Communists took over, was sworn in today as premier of South Viet Nam.

The new Cabinet was forged barely in time for the previously scheduled swearing-in ceremony. At the last minute, Dr. Bui Ton Huan decided against becoming finance minister and the post was given to Tran Van Kien.

As expected, most of the Cabinet members are natives of North and central Viet Nam. The militant Buddhists are strongly represented.

LAY SPOKESMAN
A significant inclusion was Tran Quang Thuan as minister of social welfare. He held the post in Lt. Gen. Nguyen Khanh's first Cabinet after Jan. 30, 1964, but quit after a series of public arguments with Khanh.

Since then, Thuan has served as a lay spokesman for the Buddhists who have played a major part in destroying other Saigon governments.

Khanh, who set up the new government, did not attend the head chief of state, Phan Khac Suu, who himself holds office by Khanh's appointment.

CIVILIAN COUNCIL
The general is expected to announce soon formation of a 20-man council of civilians and military officers to act as a legislative advisory body.

Selection of Quat, 55, a former foreign minister, had been delayed when the military balked at plans to appoint Tran Van Tuyen as interior minister. Tuyen is originally from North Viet Nam and it was argued he would have difficulty in the post because of having to deal with the touchy religious groups of South Viet Nam.

POLICEWOMAN, FIRST COURT MATRON, DIES

Mrs. S. Elizabeth Bollinger, 87, 20 N. Washington St., died this morning at 4 o'clock at the Pape Convalescent Home, Gettysburg R. D., where she had been a guest for five weeks.

A native of Cumberland Twp., born in the Codori House, she was Gettysburg's first policewoman and in 1962 was honored for 25 years of service as county court matron.

Mrs. Bollinger had resided in Gettysburg since 1917. Her husband, Harvey, who died in 1958, was a cigar maker and at one time was custodian of Christ Lutheran Church here. Mrs. Bollinger as his wife had among her jobs the ringing of the church bells.

HONORED BY COURT
She served as matron in handling women prisoners, assisting in lie detector tests and accompanying women prisoners when they were taken to penitentiaries. Through much of her life she assisted the court, sheriff's office and police generally as matron.

She was the first officially appointed court matron and her duties had included being with Juries 24 hours a day for a period ranging up to two weeks during murder trials. At times she spent as long as three weeks at the jail, when needed for women prisoners, sleeping there in order to be on hand as needed.

On April 30, 1962, when she marked her 25th year as court matron, Judge W. C. Sheely paid tribute to her long and faithful service and noted she had not missed a day of court in a quarter century. As a token of appreciation she was presented with a dozen roses on that occasion.

RETIRE IN 1963

A year later, having served 26 years as matron, she retired because of failing health.

She was born October 3, 1877, a daughter of the late John and Lucinda (Bercaw) Hoffman. She was a member of Christ Lutheran Church.

Surviving are a sister, Mrs. George Cullison, Harrisburg; a nephew, Edgar Bollinger, who resided with her, and a number of other nieces and nephews.

Funeral services Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the Peters Funeral Home, Carlisle St., with Rev. Dr. Robert W. Koons, her pastor, officiating. Interment in Evergreen Cemetery. Friends may call at the funeral home Wednesday evening.

BUDGET ADOPTED BY ARENDTSVILLE

The Arendtsville borough council Monday evening tentatively adopted the budget for 1965 without change in the tax rate of $2.50 per capita and 14 mills on real estate. The budget may be inspected at the home of the secretary, Mrs. Elliott Schlosser. It will be adopted at the March meeting.

After a discussion council voted to cinder icy streets in the future. Approximately $25 was spent for snow removal this winter.

Arthur Deardorff was appointed to the Municipal Authority for a five-year term.

Bills in the general account were $111.69 and the account showed a balance for January of $3,831.15. Bills in the amount of $296.79 were approved for payment from the water account.

Glenn A. Bream, vice president, presided at the meeting in the absence of the president, Harold Taylor.

ROTARY TOLD HOW DDT SPRAY SAVED TIMBER

How an infestation of 70,000 acres of mountain woodland in Washington state by hemlock looper was stopped was shown to the Rotary Club at its meeting Monday evening in the YWCA by a film obtained by Dr. Carroll Voss, a member of the club.

The film depicted how a build-up of the "looper," a caterpillar-like larva stage of a moth, threatened to wipe out $100,000,000 worth of timber. Tests showed only DDT would stop the pests in time. Five federal agencies and 10 Washington state agencies, ranging from the Department of Public Health through the Fish and Game Commission to the Forestry Service, combined to place sufficient DDT by helicopter in the affected areas without causing any damage to game, fish or any pollution of water in the headstreams in the affected area, which could in turn cause pollution of water sources for cities.

According to the film, precise patterns were laid out for the spraying with ground men along the streams providing radio control so none of the material would get into the streams. Other officials kept constant tests going on streams and fish to halt the spraying should become necessary. Wildlife officials also were in the woods during the period to keep constant check on whether any harm might come to game.

According to the movie, the program stopped the loopers, without even "killing off the insects on which the fish depend for food."

President C. William Harbaugh presided at the meeting. Dr. John Zinn and Dr. Kenneth Smoke led group singing.

$75 Donated To Flatley "Survival Fund"

Four volunteer donors to the "Survival Fund" for James F. Flatley, Orrtanna, who was critically burned February 5, sent the campaign off this morning with a flying start totaling $75.

The first check came from Frederick C. Spalding and Mary V. Spalding, Biglerville R. 2, for $10.

The second check was received from the Hunt Avenue, Inc., Rambler Sales and Service, Littlestown Rd., in the amount of $30.

Shortly before noon two additional donations were received. N. A. Meigakes, proprietor of the Plaza Restaurant and the Bookmart, sent a check for $10 and Clyde W. Crouse, lifting, steel erecting and excavating, Littlestown R. 1, donated $25.

The Gettysburg Times was asked by the Flatley family to accept volunteer donations to a fund to help defray the great expense that will develop during the long recovery period confronting the burned man during the next year or more.

There will be no solicitations. Donations will be voluntary. Any amount will be gratefully received. The money will be paid to those rendering medical, surgical or other services for Mr. Flatley.

Make checks payable to "Survival Fund" and bring or send to "Survival Fund," The Gettysburg Times, Gettysburg, Pa.

FBI ARRESTS 4 IN PLOT ON LIBERTY BELL MONUMENTS

WASHINGTON (AP) — FBI agents seized four persons today on charges of conspiring to blow up the Washington Monument, the Statue of Liberty and the Liberty Bell.

Agents arrested three Negro men and a white woman from Canada in New York City.

FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover said agents cooperating with New York City police seized a quantity of dynamite and blasting caps buried in a lot in the Bronx. He said the cache was a portion of the explosives being accumulated by the conspirators as part of their plot.

CHARGE CONSPIRACY
Those arrested were Robert S. Collier, 28; Walter A. Bowe, 32; Khaleel S. Sayeed, 22, and Michelle Duclos, 28.

Hoover said the four were charged with conspiring to destroy government property — specifically the Statue of Liberty in New York harbor, the Washington Monument near the White House in Washington, and the Liberty Bell in Philadelphia's Independence Hall. Conviction could carry a maximum penalty of 10 years in prison and a $10,000 fine.

HAVE BACKGROUNDS
Hoover provided this information about those arrested:

In 1964, Collier, a Boston native, violated State Department regulations by traveling to Cuba with a group under the auspices of a student committee. Hoover said Collier is the self-styled leader of an organization Collier calls the Black Liberation Front.

Collier is married and lives in Manhattan with his wife and one child. He studied electrical engineering in 1962-63 at the Lowell Institute School, Cambridge, Mass. He was employed at the New York Public Library last December. While in the Air Force in 1956, Hoover said, Collier was convicted on a charge

HEAR DIRECTOR OF JOB CORPS CAMP IN MD.

The work of the U. S. "Job Corps" camp near Thurmont was outlined Monday evening to the Gettysburg Kiwanis Club by the camp's director Al Maxey, formerly of the National Park Service.

William Ditzler, of the Kiwanis Club, introducing Maxey at the dinner session in the Holiday Inn, noted that Maxey served for eight years with the National Park Service at Yellowstone National Park before being named to open the first camp of the Job Corps in the Catoctin Mountains Park, near Thurmont, and direct the training of staff members for that camp and two other camps which have now been opened under the national program.

The three present camps each have a capacity of 100 boys, Maxey said. So far there have been 115,000 applications received from youths seeking entrance to the camps established by the federal government as part of the anti-poverty program.

EXPLAINS PURPOSES
Maxey told the Kiwanians: "One of the purposes of this program is to fit into the present economy some of the young people who have been or are being technologically bypassed. Most of the young men are school dropouts and to be eligible for acceptance must have a reading level of less than Eighth Grade. They are characterized by a quote from Robert Frost's poem 'The Death' (Continued on Page 3)

PSU COMPUTER READY TO RUN ADAMS FARMS

For $150 farmers can now manage their farms by computer.

Fred Hughes, farm management specialist for the Pennsylvania State University, told those gathered Monday at the West St. branch of the Gettysburg National Bank for the annual "Dairy Day" sponsored by Adams County Agricultural Extension Association that "linear planning" is now available to farmers of the area through the huge computers at Penn State.

The computers have been programmed to provide the best possible alternatives for farm management based on all types of factors of the farm—its size, type, soil and other factors. Farmers who want to take advantage of the service to provide a more efficient operation can have the service at a cost of $150. The farmers provide all the facts pertaining to their farm, and the machine sorts out the potentials and provides the farmer with the most feasible uses of his land.

HOLD DISTRICT MEETING

Hughes outlined trends to higher production per cow, and fewer cows in the area. He concluded however that "price received for milk does not seem to be keeping pace with costs."

Steven Spencer, dairy specialist from Penn State, spoke on methods to keep down the bacteria count in milk and produce top quality milk.

At the Atlantic Breeders Cooperative district meeting held at the conclusion of the Dairy Day program, Earl Noel, McSherrystown, director of the cooperative, and Harry Roth, assistant manager, reported on operation of the "Atlantic Breeders" group formed in July by the merger of the South-eastern and Western Pennsylvania Artificial Breeding Cooperatives. Membership now totals 19,737. A total of 254,090 first services were provided by the cooperative during the year. Roth also reported on construction of additional bull barn space at the Lancaster area headquarters.

The "Atlantic Mating Guide" was discussed as a "herd improvement tool." The new program, Noel said, involves an evaluation of each cow in the dairyman's herd, followed by sire recommendations on a specially prepared chart for the herd. To date, he said, 50,000 cows are enrolled in the program.

Paul Fissel, Biglerville R. D., received a certificate for milk production based on his annual herd average of 17,183 pounds of milk and 826 pounds of butterfat per cow. A similar certificate went to Earl Noel, for his herd's annual record of 14,999 pounds of milk and 611 pounds of butterfat per cow. Eugene F. Paules, field supervisor for the Atlantic Breeders Cooperative, presented the awards.

Files For Damages In X-Keys Crash

J. Raymond Miller, New Oxford, has filed an action in trespass in the prothonotary's office against William L. Sanborn, Abbotstown R. 1, seeking to recover $10,000 in damages resulting from an automobile accident at Cross Keys January 6.

Miller claims that Sanborn was operating his automobile in a "careless and negligent" manner when Sanborn struck a 1962 Chevrolet sedan operated by Miller, who was attempting to make a left turn from the middle lane of traffic. According to the complaint, which was filed by Attorney Daniel E. Teeter, Miller estimates that his vehicle was valued at $1,550 prior to the accident, and was worth only $832 after the accident. Repairs to the Miller vehicle amounted to $617.80 plus a claimed depreciation loss of $100.

Scouter Sessions To Open Tonight

The annual University of Scouting for the Black Walnut and Conewago Boy Scout Districts will begin tonight at 7:30 o'clock in the former New Oxford High School.

All unit leaders, assistants, den mothers, committeemen and other adults interested in Scouting are urged to attend the five-week long sessions. Dr. Richard Greenholt, Littlestown, Black Walnut District training chairman, and Cletus Smeak, Conewago District training chairman, announced today.

For Cub Scout officials especially tonight's sessions will be very worthwhile, the chairman said, since a new basic Cub program course will be given at tonight's sessions for the Cubmasters, den mothers and other adults in the Cubbing program.

The Boy Scout leaders will be divided into two sections. The basic course will be on "What Is Boy Scouting?" The advanced group will study "Troop Committees." Explorer leaders will have as their subject "The Exploring Program."

MISTRIAL IS

The charges against Trent were based upon one can of beer each consumed by Trent's sister, aged 18, and a 17-year-old girl accompanying them. Borough Officer Ray K. Breighner said Trent and the girls had told him that Trent had bought and had given the girls the beer. Breighner had asked the questions when he stopped their car and noted a half-filled six-pack was in the rear seat of the auto. At the trial, Trent testified that the girls had drunk a can of beer each at a farm near Fairfield, but had done so against his protests. The girls also held that Trent, who is 23, had protested their consuming of the beer.

Trial was started on the paternity case against George B. Hughes, Guernsey.

The jury for the Trent case included Mrs. Marie Arthur, Gettysburg R. 5; Thurston Bucher, Aspers R. 1; C. K. Hill, Gettysburg R. 1; Mrs. Marie Houck, Arendtsville; Henry Landis, Abbotstown; Nicholas R. Little, Hanover R. 4; Frank Miller, Gettysburg R. 3; Mrs. Mildred Newell, Biglerville R. 2; Mary A. Steinberger, Orrtanna R. D.; Paul Warnick, Hanover R. 5; Mrs. Ada M. White, Fairfield R. 1; Thomas Ziegler, 25 Steinwehr Ave.

The jury for the Hughes case included R. Dale Bream, Cash-town; Jane M. Bucher, Cashtown; Crawford C. Dick, Fairfield R. 2; Donald Dubbs, York Springs R. 2; Louis H. Eck, Hanover; George Flenner, Fairfield R. 2; Guy Herring, Arendtsville; Thomas W. Hummelsbaugh, 5 Buford Ave.; Mrs. Sarah Keeter, McKnightstown; Eugene Koonz, Gardners R. 2; Arthur Livingston, York Springs R. 1; Mrs. Nina Rothenhoefer, Aspers.

"A LONG, LONG DAY"

Often in the course of a long, long day . . . I all but give up hope . . . for it seems with every passing hour . . . I tread a steeper slope . . . worry holds me in its witch-like spell . . . and I yearn to become free . . . but somehow something makes it cling . . . unto the heart of me . . . silently I pray for strength to work . . . and do what I think is right . . . but in front of me looms another wall . . . of still a greater height . . . on and on I push, stumbling as I go . . . trying hard to make my way . . . that's how it goes for such as I . . . and it's much the same each day . . . and yet, as the sun sinks in the sky . . . and the long, long day is through . . . I become a new man, with new faith and hope . . . for I'm going home to you.

Wedding

Carbaugh-Welsh

A quiet marriage was solemnized on the evening of January 28 at 7:30 o'clock when Miss Judy Welsh became the bride of John T. Carbaugh.

The single-ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. Robert Easterday, Boonsboro, Md.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Corinna Amesley, R. 3, Mercersburg, and Samuel Welsh, Gettysburg. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Merle Carbaugh, Mercersburg R. 1.

Miss Beverly J. Bowman, Mercersburg R. 3, was maid of honor.

Best man for the bridegroom was Aden M. Metcalfe, Mercersburg R. 2.

Refreshments were served at the home of the bride following the ceremony.

Paul S. Burkholder, right, principal of the Eisenhower Elementary School, is shown accepting a "Swish and Swallow" poster for the Gettysburg School System from Dr. James D. Sheen, local dentist, in observance of National Children's Dental Health Week, which was observed nationally last week. Each elementary school in the Gettysburg system will receive a permanent poster for display in the school cafeteria. The posters are presented on behalf of the Hanover Dental Society, local organization of dentists sponsoring the campaign for dental health for children, and suggest "if you can't brush after each meal, swish and swallow." Out Of The Past

From the Files of the Star and Sentinel and
The Gettysburg Times
FIFTY YEARS AGO

Every evening during the hour for the revival service in the Lutheran Church at Fairfield, the business places of the town close their doors and proprietors and clerks go to the meeting. After it is over, they return, open their stores again and continue until the usual time for locking up for the night. This is one of the indications of the interest being taken in the western county town in the series of meetings which are being very well attended. This evening, the Rev. Mr. W. K. Fleck will preach on "Hell, Is It Just?"

The Alwine Brothers Brick Company has been granted a charter by the State. The capital is placed at $30,000. The members are W. C. Alwine, C. B. Alwine, L. H. Alwine and M. K. Alwine. They operate the large brick plant at Berlin Junction.

Miss Laura M. Daugherty of Orrant was being appointed teacher at Belmont School to succeed Miss Mary E. Funt who has resigned.

After an illness of only a few days from scarlet fever, Miss Marian J. Sheely daughter of Mrs. W. Clarence Sheely, Springs Ave., died in Tower City Thursday morning. She was in her twentieth year. The news came this morning as a great shock to everyone who knew her. It is doubtful if any young girl in Gettysburg had as many friends and admirers as did she. Attractive, pleasant and happy, she was a general favorite among all the young people of her own circle and to older people and all other acquaintances she was always pleasant and courteous. She will be greatly missed by all who knew her, but especially by her own intimate friends and these she numbered by the score. She was a teacher in the schools of Tower City. She leaves her mother, two sisters and a brother, Miss Frances Sheely, who is teaching in the public schools in York; Miss Edith Sheely and Clarence Sheely at home.

Gettysburg Sons of Veterans had as their guests the members of the Grand Army at a Lincoln Day celebration in the Post Room Friday evening. William L. Meals presided and there were addresses by Prof. J. Louis Sowers, W. A. McIlhenny, Charles G. Miller Theodore McAllister and N. L. Wierman. Supper, prepared by the Sons of Veterans Auxiliary, was served at the conclusion of the program.

The mortgage of $1,000 on the home of Lincoln Lodge of Elks on West High street was burned at their Lincoln Day festivities on Friday evening which included an elaborate banquet. The following responded to toasts: Richard Thomas, Walter Carter, A. J. Myers, David A. Stanton, Clarence McCullough, John Craig, Clinton Carter, David Wilson, W. E. Reed, George A. Disnie and Clayton Moxley.

George M. Stroup has purchased the Bailey property on North Washington street from Miss Emma Bailey of Ardmore. Possession will be given April 1st. Frank Wetzel has purchased from John Kimphe his residence on Chambersburg street.

At a meeting of the stockholders of the First National Bank this morning there was ratified a proposition to increase by $50,000 their capital. An equal amount will be added to the sur-

FRIENDLY UNDERSTANDING

Just think for a moment of how much trouble could be eliminated in this world if people would only try to understand one another. It's misunderstandings that start disputes, cause hateful things to be said (that one often regrets later) and which often end in a most tragic manner.

Take international affairs for example. If those seeking a solution for troublesome world problems would meet as friends, and discuss all points in a friendly manner, how quickly all misunderstandings could be wiped out. And what a glorious One World we would then have!

How comforting is that one who comes to you when in trouble or sorrow and gives friendly understanding. Perhaps no words, even, are expressed — just the friendly eye or grasp of hand. What a world of meaning may be transferred by this friendly understanding!

Too many of us jump to conclusions without thinking or trying to understand the other one's viewpoint. Each of us has a right to believe in his own way, so that when a misunderstanding arises with another we should immediately put it upon a friendly basis and in considerate fashion proceed to a friendly understanding.

How few of us have learned the great value of these two words — I'm sorry? Yet they have wiped out many an unhappy misunderstanding, and brought light into many a troubled mind and heart. Consideration for the feelings of others is an art because a friendly understanding is always then the happy result.

So much of life is a compromise — a give and take. But when we try to give more than we take, we are the winner! Most misunderstandings hinge upon a very small thing. We can well afford to overlook much and play up to the more important phases of any problem in which we are concerned. The other fellow has his side, and it may be the right side! Or, our side may be the right one. By a friendly understanding both sides may bring about one right side. Give it a trial and see what a happy ending!

Just Folks

BOYHOOD AND MANHOOD

Boyhood and manhood! A few years apart! Mischievous, noisy and wild at the start;

Eager for knowledge and willing to learn;

Needing some guidance the right way to turn.

Splendid material some day to use.

To waste it or save it? Our problem to choose.

Boyhood and manhood! A few years to wait!

The friends the boy finds will determine his fate.

Trained to right thinking—and do it we can—

A boy for today, for our country, a man!

Saved for high purpose—and little the cost—

Not wasted, unvalued, and carelessly lost.

Boyhood and manhood! And just a few years

The span it divides them. How short it appears!

The men for tomorrow these boys of today

Become as we guide them or leave them to stray.

They are building material for liberty's wall!

The freedom we cherish depend on them all.

U. S. Production Is Higher In January

WASHINGTON (AP) — Increases in output of machinery and some household goods nudged the nation's industrial production level another notch higher in January.

Production of automobiles and steel continued at the booming pace set in December.

The Federal Reserve Board reported Monday that its index of industrial production was 137.7 in January. This means the total output of factories, mines and utilities was 37.7 per cent higher than the 1957-59 average. The reading was 137.0 in December.

Ladybird, Adlai At Film Premier

NEW YORK (AP) — Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson led a glittering first-night audience attending the film premiere of "The Greatest Story Ever Told," Monday night.

She was escorted by Adlai E. Stevenson, the U.S. ambassador to the United Nations. The President's wife wore a white sequined gown and a white stole. After the theater, Mrs. Johnson attended a charity party and returned to her hotel after 2 a.m.

WILL ABANDON BIBLE COURSE

HARRISBURG (AP) — The Cornwall-Lebanon Suburban Joint School Board has abandoned plans to formulate a Bible study course on the eve of a federal court hearing into the course's constitutionality.

The board voted 15-4 Monday night to drop the proposed course, which earlier had been rejected by the State Board of Education.

The action came before a scheduled hearing in U.S. District Court here today on a petition seeking an injunction to prohibit the course from being taught.

The suit was filed by Mr. and Mrs. James N. Snively of North Lebanon Twp., who for more than a year have contested Bible reading in the district's school system. The Snivelys have two children attending Ebenezer Elementary School.

The hearing was set by Judge Frederick V. Follmer after the State Board of Education rejected the proposed Bible course on grounds it was sectarian in nature and failed to meet scholastic and literary requirements.

Mrs. William Galey, who was injured in an automobile accident a week ago Sunday, is a patient in the Hanover General Hospital.

U. S. Coin Shortage Is Being Overcome

WASHINGTON (AP) — A House investigating subcommittee looking into the U.S. coin shortage got a report with a silver lining today.

Robert A. Wallace, assistant secretary of the Treasury, announced that "thanks to a crash program" and round-the-clock, seven-day weeks at the mints "we were able to avert a coin crisis last fall."

Reports from the Federal Reserve System Wallace said in testimony prepared for the government operations subcommittee, indicate "the penny situation is apparently under control and the entire coin situation has greatly improved."

He acknowledged, however, that "coins other than pennies remain somewhat tight."

Bullets Suffer Fourth Loss In Row At Rutgers 79-73; Delaware Here On Thursday

Rutgers, leading all the way, handed the Gettysburg College eagles their fourth straight setback 79-73 at New Brunswick, N.J., Monday evening. The Bullets are now 7-9 while Rutgers is 10-9.

Rutgers jumped in front early at 11-6 and pushed ahead 27-16 midway in the first half before the Bullets began to iron out early mistakes and pull to within 38-32 at half time.

During the first half Bob Lloyd, ace Scarlet scorer, hit Rutgers from the outside while Earl Robinson 6-4, took care of the inside work as they netted 17 and 13 points, respectively.

With but 2:32 left a three-point play by Jim Ruck closed the gap to 73-69 but six straight foul conversions by Denny Earl when the Bullets played a pressing game wrapped up the outcome.

Rutgers led in rebounding 55-45 and made good on 30 of 65 field goal tries. The Bullets also shot well with 29 goals in 60 attempts. The Scarlet Knight made 19 of 33 foul shots while Gettysburg made good on 15 of 20.

George Strouse landed 19 points for Gettysburg to pull within 21 of 1,000 tallies during his collegiate career. Lloyd and Robinson bombed the nets for 26 and 21 for the winners.

The game was delayed half an hour due to transportation difficulty encountered by the Bullets. The Bullets stopped at a motel and got separated from their bus. They had to call on the Rutgers College patrol cars for a lift to the gym, some six miles away.

Since all of the Gettysburg equipment was still on the bus, the Rutgers equipment manager politely provided an old set of uniforms. They weren't needed, however, but the game had to be delayed 30 minutes after the bus driver finally found his way to the gym.

Gettysburg faces two home games the remainder of the week, meeting Delaware on Thursday and Lehigh on Saturday.

FINDING OF BABY STAR IS REPORTED

By FRANK CAREY
Associated Press Science Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Discovery of what may be the first real baby star — one apparently much smaller than the moon — was described today by the National Science Foundation.

Although seemingly a real pipsqueak as stars go — having roughly one-thousandth the diameter of the sun — the new-found dwarf shapes up as a heavily heavyweight champ of sorts.

It apparently packs 300 tons of material per cubic inch of volume, more than 100 million times the density of water.

THE NSF told about it in its annual report to the White House and Congress. It credited the find to Dr. William J. Luyten, a University of Minnesota astronomer doing research aided by an NSF grant.

There's no question about the discovery of the star the report said. The only possible question is whether the distance to it has been figured accurately because that would have a bearing on computing its actual size.

As things stand, estimates are that the star, in the constellation Cetus, is some 288 trillion miles from the earth, and the light seen from it on any given night started coming to the earth about 48 years previously. Light from a star travels at 186,000 miles a second.

1,000 MILES AWAY
However, it is relatively chummy with the earth, as star distances go. It also is by far the smallest among about 12,000

MANTLE LOOKS FORWARD TO BETTER YEAR

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Bad news for Yankee haters. A healthy Mickey Mantle, with a third straight $100,000 contract, thinks he is going to have "a lot better year."

As Mantle, 33, is the world's best authority on his own physical condition, the Yanks are counting on another big season from the switcher.

"If Whitey Ford's arm is all right, the Yankees should win by 10 games," Mantle told newsmen in Dallas and over an amplified telephone hookup to others in the Yankee office in New York Monday. "We lost a lot we should have won last year. We didn't have Mel Stottlemyre all year last season. Al Downing, Jim Bouton and Whitey ought to carry the load."

RACE FOR SECOND
"Chicago and Baltimore will be up there. Cleveland helped itself, too. It should be between the three of them for second."

And what happens if Ford, who underwent arm surgery during the off season, can't make it?

"We'll be in trouble," said Mantle. "We've got to have Whitey to top 'em if we get on a losing streak."

Mantle said the calisthenics to be conducted by ex-football Giant Andy Robustelli should help.

LEGS FEEL FINE
"We had them last year and they helped," said Mickey. "He probably knows more about giving them than Yogi."

As for his own position in 1965, Mickey said it would be up to Johnny Keane, who replaced Yogi Berra as Yank manager, to say whether he would go back to center field or remain in right where he finished last season.

Mantle said his legs, which have bothered him throughout his career, felt fine.

He reported his weight at 208 pounds.

TO REPORT MARCH 1
Mickey plans to leave for Florida Feb. 20 and will play in the baseball players' golf tournament at Miami before reporting to camp March 1 at Ft. Lauderdale.

Mantle said he was not concerned about the fact that he signed his third straight $100,000 contract and still was behind Willie Mays' $105,000 pay, highest in baseball.

When asked if he could have held out for more, Mantle said, "It's too close to the end to start fighting. I took what they offered and I'm happy."

'Bolts Name Blocher, Orndorff As Cocaptains

Jim Blocher and Louie Orndorff, both Seniors, were elected as cocaptains of the Littlestown High School basketball team at a squad meeting Monday evening.

Blocher, 5-8, is the floor general of the Thunderbolts while Orndorff, 6-1, is the top scorer and second leading rebounder.

They will lead their team against Greencastle tonight at Littlestown when parents of the players and cheerleaders will be guests of the school.

$100 Extra Fine For Jim Roberts

MONTREAL (AP) — Montreal's Jim Roberts has been hit with an extra $100 fine and a total of $925 in fines levied against the 10 Canadiens and six members of the Toronto Maple Leafs involved in a hockey brawl last week.

Each of the players involved was fined $25 in addition to the automatic $25 penalty assessed against a player leaving the bench to fight. The additional fines were announced Monday by Clarence Campbell, president of the National Hockey League.

According to Campbell's statement, Roberts was slapped with the heaviest fine because his action in jumping off the bench while officials tried to control a fight between Frank Mahovlich of Toronto and Ted Harris of Montreal led to additional fights.

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A sharp increase in football deaths last year was noted today by Dr. Floyd R. Eastwood, chairman of the American Football Coaches Association.

Dr. Eastwood says deaths rose from 24 in 1963 to 45 in 1964.

Most of the deaths (27) could be traced to traumatic blows while the others came from indirect causes, including heart failure, heart stroke and infection, the professor said.

NEW YORK (AP) — Prospects of a settlement in the three-year-old AAU-NCAA feud took an upward turn today with the announcement of a peace parley between chiefs of the two warring camps.

Clifford T. Buck and Everett D. Barnes, new presidents of the AAU and NCAA, respectively, will meet here Wednesday to discuss differences and, although the meeting promises no immediate breakthrough, both groups hope it will lead to more talks and, ultimately, to an understanding.

SAYS MAJOR GRID LOOPS TO MEET SOON

PALM DESERT, Calif. (AP) — There will be a meeting of the National and American Football League teams in the "near future" in the opinion of one of the strongest owners-coaches of the old established NFL, George Halas of the Chicago Bears.

Halas, who laughs at his title as the junior-elder statesman of the NFL — actually he is the elder statesman — expressed this opinion as the NFL plunged into its formal meeting.

Halas, one of the founders of the league, would not pinpoint the exact year of any NFL-AFL game, but he did say it was inevitable in the not-too-distant future.

"NEAR FUTURE"
Would it be 10 years, five years?
"Just say in the near future," said old Papa Bear, who has shepherded the Bears as well as the National League through decades of their history.

There has been no indication from Commissioner Pete Rozelle that the league has any idea playing the AFL either an exhibition or championship game, and there is also no indication that anything of this nature will transpire at the current NFL meeting.

Oklahoma State has a shot at its first Big Eight basketball championship and Hank Iba's Cowboys will go to great lengths to nail the title — three halves to be exact.

The Cowboys went 60 minutes — 40 in regulation play and 20 more in four overtime sessions — before outlasting Kansas 68-64 Monday night for their eighth conference victory in nine starts. Three weeks ago they edged Colorado 59-55 in three overtimes.

Clutch shooting by Jim King and Freddie Moulder finally wore down the visiting Jayhawks, who tumbled to third place, one-half game behind Colorado and 2½ off the Cowboys' pace.

MICHIGAN WINS AGAIN
Michigan, the nation's No. 1 quintet, also took the overtime round, battling uphill through two extra periods to gain a 96-95 nod at Indiana and protect its Big Ten lead.

Two free throws by Cazzie Russell nipped the Hoosiers after Michigan had come from seven points behind in the last 56 seconds of regulation play and from four points down with 26 seconds remaining in the first overtime.

The victory was the Wolverines' eighth straight in the conference and 16th in 18 games. Indiana, ranked eighth in this week's Associated Press poll, is 15-3 on the season and 5-3 in the Big Ten.

Wichita, only other nationally ranked team in action, got by Oklahoma Loyola 80-77 on Kelly Pete's four-point burst in the final minute. The home-court victory gave the No. 10 Wheatshockers a 16-4 mark.

CORNELL WHIPS YALE
Oklahoma State and Kansas, deadlocked 49-49 at the 40-minute mark, labored through 52-52, 58-58 and 62-62 ties before Moulder's basket put the Cowboys ahead to stay in the fourth overtime and King mopped up with a pair of free throws.

It was the 71st victory — and the first quadruple overtime — for an Iba-coached club.

Michigan appeared beaten when the Wolves went into the final minute trailing 81-74. But Bill Buntin hit a free throw, John Thompson a basket with 30 seconds left and Buntin another following a steal.

Cheyney Sews Up Play For Title

JOHNSTOWN, Pa. (AP) — Cheyney definitely will be one of the teams in the fifth annual championship game of the Pennsylvania State Colleges Basketball Conference. The question is: Who will be the other one?

Edinboro leads the Western Section with a 6-2 record and 187 rating points but Slippery Rock, California and Clarion still have a chance with 5-3 records.

Cheyney could lose its next three conference games and still win in the East. The Wolves have an 11-0 mark and 240 points.

Both teams turned in brilliant shooting records in the free scoring affair. Mt. St. Mary's, leading 47 goals, made 55 per cent of its shots. The Rams made good on 39 tries for a 45 per cent mark.

John Carrell banded the nets for 21 points in the second half to break the game open after the Mount held a narrow 54-49 advantage at half time. He wound up with 29 tallies.

HAAG LANDS 32
Bernie Haag continued his fine point production for the Emmitsburg outfit and racked up 32 points to be high man for the game.

Shepherd was led by Tommy Thompson who swished 30 with Gary Phelan and Wayman Everly adding 27 and 26.

The Mountaineers will return to Mason-Dixon Conference action Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock when they meet American University at Emmitsburg in their final home game.

Friday night the Mount invades Westminster to meet Western Maryland in another M-D encounter to conclude its regular season.

Bubblers Here Tonight As Warriors Open Three-Game Stand In BML Title Drive

The red hot race for second half honors in the Blue Mountain Basketball League heads into the home stretch this week with three teams, Gettysburg, Shippensburg and Susquehanna, currently in a three-way tie for first place. All will be gunning for victories in their final three games to keep in the scrap.

2 TITLE FIGHTS SCHEDULED ON SINGLE NIGHT
Tonight Gettysburg tangles with Boiling Springs here and should be able to repeat a 67-36 victory gained over the Bubblers at Boiling Springs in the first half. Coach Merrill Eckhart and his lads, however, will take nothing for granted as an upset along the way would be fatal.

Following tonight's game, the Warriors entertain Biglerville here Thursday evening and then finish with Camp Hill, also here, next Tuesday.

Shippensburg, first half titlist, should go through the remaining contests unbeaten. The Greyhounds host East Pennsboro tonight, play at Newport Thursday, and entertain Susquehanna next Tuesday.

Of the contenders, Susquehanna faces the toughest task. They clash with Big Spring this evening at Perdis, are at Camp Hill Thursday and wind up at Shippensburg the following Tuesday.

Biglerville faces a tough BML game this evening at Camp Hill. The Cannons lost a first half game to the Lions 38-35.

L-TOWN AT HOME
Top game in the Adams-Franklin League tonight will be at Littlestown where the Thunderbolts take on Greencastle.

Jack Bream's Bolts lost a hard fought 68-64 verdict at Greencastle last month and will go out to avenge that loss. A defeat for Greencastle would virtually eliminate it in its bid for the Franklin Division laurels.

Scotland, the Franklin leader, will be host to Scotland and the Cadets are expected to win handily. In the other league game Bermudian Springs opposes James Buchanan at Mercersburg.

New Oxford, defending A-F champion, has already clinched the Adams Division title. The Colonials are idle tonight, next meeting Scotland at New Oxford Friday evening.

Delone Catholic also has the night off. The Squires, unbeaten leaders (4-0) in the second half race of the Central Penn Catholic League, meet powerful Lourdes at Shamokin Friday night in a key league scrap.

Two Phipps Brothers Buy Denver Teams

DENVER (AP) — Denver brothers Gerald and Allan Phipps agreed Monday to pay $1.5 million for control of the Denver Broncos of the American Football League.

Chairman of the board Gerald Phipps said the Broncos would remain in Denver for the 1965 season.

The transaction gives the Phipps' an additional 52 per cent of the stock of Empire Sports, Inc., parent company of the Broncos and the Denver Bears of baseball's Pacific Coast League. The Phipps now hold 94 per cent of the shares.

Corregidor Reconquered By Yanks 20 Years Ago

EDITOR'S NOTE — James M. Hutcheson was an Associated Press war correspondent and covered the landing of American troops on Corregidor in 1945. Now executive news editor of the Walla Walla Union-Bulletin, Hutcheson recalls the landing on the 20th anniversary.

By JAMES M. HUTCHESON
WALLA WALLA, Wash. (AP) — A doughty little general, who had led the first daring march into Manila and later was to lead the first occupation troops into Tokyo, commented with emotion as he stood on the bridge of the command ship.

"I wish General Wainwright could be here to see this. It would be the greatest sight of his life."

It was just 20 years ago today. American troops, by parachute and by landing craft, had just undertaken the reconquest of Corregidor, the fortress island astride the entrance to Manila Bay. It was a comeback that was almost forgotten.

MANY MEMORIES
Corregidor — A name that recalled memories of both bitter defeat and gallantry against hopeless odds.

Corregidor — The headquarters from which Gen. Douglas MacArthur set out for Australia by PT-boat with the promise to return.

Corregidor — The battered island when Gen. Jonathan Wainwright emerged from Malinta Hill's tunnels to surrender his emaciated, sick and bleeding force to the commander of the invading army.

ANOTHER BATTLEGROUND
Maj. Gen. William C. Chase, who had been given command of a division on nearby Bataan after leading a spearhead into Manila as a brigade commander, remembered the sacrifice of Gen. Wainwright as he rode the command ship as an observer 20 years ago.

To the paratroopers and infantrymen landing on the island, there was no time for sentimental reflections. Corregidor might stand as a symbol to the generals and folks back home, but to them it was only another barren battleground on which many of them would die.

If a battle can fittingly be described as a spectacle, the reconquest of Corregidor was it.

POUNDED BY GUNS
Naval guns pounded the pollywog-shaped "Rock" the preceding day, then joined the bombers in blasting it again before the landing started. Aboard ships offshore, we had floating grandstand seats.

First came paratroopers of the 503rd Parachute Regiment. They landed atop the plateau "head" of the island, site of the old parade grounds and barracks. Varicolored parachutes dotted the "Rock" in spectacular patterns against the burned and scarred terrain. Some paratroopers landed on the steep cliffs; or in the water and had to be picked up by boats. But most of the force landed according to plan, trapping the Japanese in their caves and tunnels and proceeding to take their "topside" objectives.

PEAKS OF TUNNELS
Then came the landing craft from the Navy force offshore, carrying 24th Division troops to a narrow beach on which mines were planted like carrots in a garden. Within an hour, however, the first of the infantrymen set off a smoke flare to signal their arrival atop Malinta Hill, the midland peak of many tunnels — the tunnels where Americans had held out to the last in 1942 and in which hundreds of Japanese now remained as the Americans climbed the island.

Much cleanup fighting remained ahead, but the American grip on the island never was threatened. Hundreds of Japanese were killed later in caves and tunnels, or when they emerged from them.

The worst slaughter was an instance of mass suicide. The defenders set off a blast inside Malinta Hill which seemed to lift the hilltop and which carried several Americans to death under a rockslide at its base.

CORREGIDOR SHUDDERED
As a dispatch from the scene described it the next day: "All Corregidor shuddered last night."

It was almost two weeks later, on March 1, when Gen. MacArthur announced virtually complete destruction of the trapped enemy. He told how the conquest was achieved by an American force only half the size of the elaborately entrenched Japanese garrison of 6,000.

The general said 4,215 defenders' bodies were counted, while many never were retrieved from blasted caves or tunnels. American casualties were comparatively light.

OTHER BIG EVENTS
The reconquest of Corregidor seemed a symbol of "the road back." Yet, ironically, it received little attention in the news of the day. The battle for Manila was raging at the same time — the smoke of the burning city was clearly visible from atop Malinta Hill.

Of even greater import, the landing on Iwo Jima was announced the same day. It was a giant stride toward the Japanese homeland, temporarily overshadowing all action in the Philippines.

Corregidor, once a sentimental and strategic symbol, was just another blasted and scarred milestone on the long road back. It had no airfield sites to offer, and a fortress against a sea attack became an anachronism in an air era. Twice a battleground, historic Corregidor became a military ghost, with Malinta Hill standing as a sentinel over the dead of two nations who had tried to defend it.

Pennsylvania has 9,500 miles of streams.

AGWAY WILL BUILD PLANT

OLEAN, N. Y. (AP)—Agway Inc. of Syracuse and Felmott Oil Corp. of New York City will build a $14-million industrial complex here to produce nitrogen products for feeds and fertilizers, it was announced today.

A spokesman for Felmott said the company acquired the former Socony Mobil Oil refinery property about a year ago specifically for this development.

The two firms will work together to manufacture nitrogen components for fertilizers, feeds and other products sold through Agway's outlets in New York, Pennsylvania and New England.

The spokesman said the complex will create approximately

'Goldfinger' Pair Steals Receipts

NEW YORK (AP) — Two East Side theater managers were robbed Sunday night of about $4,000 in receipts as they were about to put the cash in a bank night depository.

The victims, Keith Massey and John Gold, told police two men, holding their hands in their pockets as though they had guns, fled with the money.

The movie, playing at both theaters, is "Goldfinger," in which a sophisticated thief tries to rob Ft. Knox.

ASK CHANGE IN DRINKING LAW

HARRISBURG (AP) — The Pennsylvania Bureau of Traffic Safety plans to look into New York State's lower drinking age and see what impact, if any, it may have on Pennsylvania's teen-age drivers.

A full-scale investigation was ordered by Gov. Scranton Monday after he had met with Ned J. Parsekian, special consultant to Gov. Richard J. Hughes of New Jersey.

The minimum drinking age in New York is 18, as compared with 21 in both Pennsylvania and New Jersey. For some time, New York has been under pressure from surrounding states to raise its age requirement, but to no avail.

Scranton received a report from Parsekian linking 24 traffic fatalities between 1962 and 1964 with the lower drinking age in New York. The report said there were 19 accidents during the three-year period involving New Jersey drivers under 21 years of age who had been drinking in New York. The accidents resulted in 24 deaths and 33 injuries.

COURT FIGHT LOOMING FOR STEEL VOTE

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The United Steelworkers have voted and because of the closeness of the balloting and the uncertainty of the outcome, two words stand out—court fight.

Both candidates, while expressing confidence in victory, indicated over the weekend the fight for the leadership of the 980,000-member union could move from the ballot box to the courtroom.

In Hammond, Ind., Saturday, Federal Judge George N. Beamer had U.S. marshals impound some 8,000 votes cast by the USW's 14,000-member Gary Local 1014.

CHARGES FRAUD
Beamer acted on a motion by Max Cohen, an attorney for incumbent David J. McDonald, who charged there was evidence of vote fraud in the local.

Meanwhile, in Pittsburgh, McDonald's opponent, I. W. Abel, said in a statement:

"... we are in the process of collecting information of voting irregularities in a number of places and we believe that as a result of the protests which will be filed, the incumbent president will lose many thousands of additional votes."

LEAD OF 7,000

The latest Associated Press unofficial tabulation of incomplete returns has Abel, the USW's secretary-treasurer, leading by some 7,000 votes in his bid to end McDonald's 12-year leadership of the union.

The official counting will be done by the international union's tellers after they receive the votes from the recording secretaries of the approximately 3,300 locals. The vote return sheets must be in the hands of the tellers by next Friday midnight.

The union's constitution says all votes from a local must be

2,000 Unclaimed Driver's Licenses

HARRISBURG (AP) — The state Revenue Department reported today it has more than 2,000 unclaimed driver's licenses on its hands because of faulty or wrong addresses.

L. T. Bernard, director of motor vehicles in the department, said the licenses "were paid for, processed and sent out, but bounced back because they were sent to the wrong mailing addresses."

Bernard said some of the confusion results from several of the state's post offices changing their address systems by converting R. D. numbers to street addresses.

A spokesman urged persons who have paid for their licenses and have received canceled checks—but no license—should send their new addresses to the department.

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Union has sentenced to death a Russian who failed in an attempt to hijack a plane and force its pilot to fly to Turkey.

The official Soviet news agency Tass said Friday that the sentence was handed down by the Supreme Court of the Moldavian region.

tossed out if a single voting violation is discovered in the locals.

APPEALS POSSIBLE

The USW's Executive Board judges voting complaints. If a member is not satisfied with the board's decision he can appeal to the U.S. secretary of labor under the Landrum-Griffin Act.

The secretary of labor then could file suit on behalf of the complaining member. He also has power to order a new election.

While the election outcome remains at issue, negotiations with the basic steel industry are at a standstill. The talks were suspended last Jan. 8 and the union rejected a request to extend the strike deadline.

The contract formally was reopened Jan. 1 and the union can strike May 1.

KNOW DEATH WAS NEAR FOR NAT KING COLE

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP) — Doctors told Nat King Cole's wife last Friday that the 30-million-record singer was dying, but she kept it a secret from the world — and from him.

Sunday, as the sun shone brightly in Santa Monica, Maria Cole took her husband for an automobile ride.

Half a day later, at 5:30 a.m. Monday, he was dead of cancer.

Doctors said an autopsy showed cancer in all major organs and glands of Cole's body. He was 45.

The singer had been under treatment for lung cancer for months. He took a turn for the worst last week, and doctors at St. John's Hospital learned through tests that cancer had reached his liver.

MANY TRIBUTES

They told Mrs. Cole. It was her decision to keep it secret, a hospital spokesman said.

Tributes to the singer began to pour in from around the world Monday.

The British Broadcasting Co. in London broadcast a television tribute to Cole.

The Los Angeles City Council adjourned in Cole's memory.

The Los Angeles County Board of Supervisors ordered flags flown at half-staff at the new, multimillion-dollar music center, of which Cole was a founder.

Cole's body will lie in a closed casket at St. James Episcopal Church, on Wilshire Boulevard in Los Angeles, from 3 to 10 p.m. Wednesday to permit the singer's fans to pay their last respects.

Private funeral services will be held at the church at 11 a.m. Thursday. Entombment will follow at Forest Lawn Memorial Park in nearby Glendale.

State School Bus Bill Is A Controversial Measure

Editor's Note: One of the most controversial bills before the general assembly this year is a measure to require public school districts providing bus transportation for its pupils to furnish the same service to private and parochial students. This issue is certain to be one of the most debated items on the legislative calendar. Here is the first of a two-part report on the opposing positions.

By VINCENT P. CAROCCI
Associated Press Writer

HARRISBURG (AP) — A battle royal is imminent in Pennsylvania over the question of public school bus transportation for private and parochial school pupils.

It has commonly and erroneously been called a fight between Catholics and Protestants. Actually, the dispute boils down to a difference in the interpretation of a basic principle of government—that of separation of church and state.

The question: Can private and parochial school pupils be transported on public school buses at public expense without violating this tenet?

Proponents, including the Scranton administration, contend that the federal and state constitutions allow this service. Opponents say this is not a legitimate function of government.

The vehicle for this dispute is an administration bill before the senate.

SAME FOR ALL
The bill would require public school districts furnishing bus transportation for its pupils to provide the same service for non-public school pupils along established routes.

Latest figures from the department of public instruction show there are some 630,000 non-public school pupils in Pennsylvania, most of them in Catholic schools.

It is estimated that 143,000 private or parochial pupils would benefit from the Scranton-backed bill at an initial cost to the state of about $6.8 million annually.

BILL PERMISSIBLE

The justice department concluded in an informal opinion in 1963 that the bill is permissible under the federal constitution.

The measure "does not have a primary effect that either advances or inhibits religion" in Pennsylvania, wrote Atty. Gen. Walter E. Alessandrini.

The same memorandum noted, however, that no test of legality under the state constitution could be made until the legislature passes a bill authorizing the service.

The administration views the proposal as one related more to the health and welfare of the pupil than to his education.

CALLS A SERVICE

An aide to the governor said: "We feel this doesn't have any direct involvement in education. The governor is strongly opposed to that. We consider this a service which the state can legitimately provide."

Sen. Clarence D. Bell, R-Delaware, a leader among the five sponsors of the Scranton bill, said: "This is purely a public safety matter involving children. The proponents and opponents concur that the separation of church and state is one of the most sacred tenets of government. Some believe this bill is an invasion of that principle, but I believe firmly that it is not."

SCOTT SAYS U. S. MUST RETALIATE

WILKES-BARRE, Pa. (AP) — Sen. Hugh Scott, R-Pa., says the United States "must retaliate" against aggressive Communist attacks in North Viet Nam.

"Retaliation against the aggressor shows our strength. . . . We must not be weak," Scott said Sunday in a speech before 300 at the Jewish Community Center here.

"Some day there will be negotiations with the enemy on the crisis in North Viet Nam," Scott added, "and when this day comes, we must be strong—for with strength, we can negotiate on our own terms."

NOT A CANDIDATE
Scott also said he was convinced that President Johnson did the "right thing in showing the enemy that we will strike back."

"After Viet Nam, if the Communists get their way," continued Scott, "Thailand will be next. They will go from nation to nation. . . . Now is the time to stop them."

Later asked by a newsman if he would run for governor of Pennsylvania, Scott said, "I am not a candidate, but I will never shut the door to that possibility."

"The Republican party has many fine, young men who would make better candidates, including (Montgomery County Rep. Richard S.) Schwicker, and (Lt. Gov. Raymond) Shafer. "I am content representing the people as their senator, but should the time come when I would be called upon to be a candidate, I would accept."

SETS FIRE TO TRUCK: LOURED TRADE AWAY

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP) — Food-vending trucks have been parked beside C. G. Adams' confectionery and enticing away his customers.

Police said Adams, 78, related in a written statement, he poured gasoline on a food truck and set it afire Saturday. He was arrested for investigation of arson.

Many of Adams' customers are students at Manual High School, which has adult classes on Saturdays.

"The days the trucks are not there I do a pretty good business," Adams told police. "The days they are there I do no business whatever."

WASN'T 'FOOLING'
He said the driver of one vending truck had agreed Feb. 6 not to return.

John A. Hughes, 33, from a different catering firm, parked there Saturday and opened his truck for business.

Adams came out of his shop and said, "I told you not to park there."

"Leave me alone, old man," Hughes said he replied. "I have permission to park here."

Then Adams poured gasoline on the truck and repeated, "I told you not to park here."

"Old man, you're fooling," Hughes retorted.

But Adams ignited the gasoline, and the astonished Hughes dashed off to call the fire department.

NEGRO'S HOME IS SET AFIRE

NEW YORK (AP) — Malcolm X, controversial black nationalist leader, whose home was damaged by three gasoline bombs, says, "It doesn't frighten me; it doesn't quiet me down in any way or shut me up."

Malcolm X, who had advocated a doctrine of Negro "self defense against white supremacy," fled with his wife and four children early Sunday after the homemade bombs crashed through the living-room window.

Damage was termed extensive, but the blaze was quickly extinguished. Police began an investigation.

Authorities believe the devices — bottles filled with gasoline with rags for wicks — were hurled from a passing car into the two-story home in Elmhurst, Queens.

Malcolm X left by plane for Detroit a few hours after the blaze to address an Afro-American rally. He said he would return.

TWO CHILDREN DIE IN FLAMES

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Fire swept a house in the city's east Germantown section Monday killing two children.

The victims trapped in their beds were Angela Birdsong, 6 months, and her two-year-old brother, Steven.

An older brother, about 5, escaped by running out the front door.

Patrolman Charles Campbell said the mother, Louise, 39, told him she was in the backyard emptying garbage when the fire broke out.

She said she tried to get back inside, but was forced back by the flames.

PORTSMOUTH, England (AP) — Portsmouth Cathedral will be completed as a permanent memorial to D-Day, the Anglican bishop of the port city announced Monday.

"Now is the time to do something to commemorate D-Day, while some of those who took part in it are still alive, before it becomes one of the greatest milestones in history books," the Rt. Rev. John Henry Phillips told a news conference.

Mishap Dampens Valentine Spirit

FRESNO, Calif. (AP) — The amiable spirit of St. Valentine's Day went astray Sunday for Arthur Oliver, two dogs, two pet birds and a bent telephone pole.

Oliver, 57, was headed home in his car. His dogs were sitting in the back seat. His newly purchased finches were in a box next to him. The pooches bared their fangs at the birds.

Amid much barking and alarmed tweeting, and Oliver trying to calm things down, the car smacked into the pole. Police said Oliver was only shaken, also the dogs and the birds.

SPORT EVENTS TAKING OVER TV ON SUNDAY

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Sunday afternoon, once devoted to leisurely interview and discussion programs, now has become largely dedicated to sports lovers.

CBS Sunday had the complete film of the recent Patterson-Chuvalo boxing bout. The network inserted a rambling discussion of the fight by Patterson and some boxing experts who seemed to have little enlightening to say.

NBC put on a tape of a track meet and ABC had an hour film of a golf match in Nassau. After that, there was a live broadcast on a local station of the Phoenix Open Golf Tournament. This last program, syndicated, was most interesting merely because it was live but the many commercials were injected at inappropriate moments.

THOMAS SHOW SAGS

Danny Thomas had another of his handsomely produced specials in the early evening on NBC. One wished the writing had been as glossy as the sets. There was one attractive dance number with toys coming alive against a background of two enormous trousered legs and feet, supposedly Danny's. The principal sketch was a domestic scene, with Marjorie Lord in a mud pack and guest star Perry Como playing an embarrassed, unexpected guest. It didn't come off very well.

CBS' usual "Look Up and Live" program Sunday morning presented translated fragments of poetry written by doomed children in Czechoslovakia's terrible wartime Terezin concentration camp. The reading by young actors was sad and very moving.

Most of the young authors, all under 15, soon were dead in Auschwitz. Of the 15,000 children who passed through Terezin between 1942 and 1944, only about 100 survived.

DISABLED PLANE LANDS SAFELY

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — An American Airlines Astrojet with 105 persons aboard landed safely at Carswell Air Force Base Sunday afternoon after circling the field for an hour.

Shortly after the plane had taken off from Dallas Love Field on a flight to New York the pilot discovered that a hydraulic failure had prevented the nose landing gear from retracting.

An airline spokesman said the plane had been diverted to Carswell for a landing because of the longer runways and emergency facilities.

The jet, which carried 99 passengers and a crew of 6, flew over the field for an hour to consume fuel and made a normal landing as fire trucks and ambulances stood by.

The passengers were rescheduled on a later Dallas-New York flight.

LBJ Hears Pastor Scoff De Gaulle

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson went to church Sunday and heard his pastor make a critical reference to French President Charles de Gaulle.

The Rev. George R. Davis of the National City Christian Church, speaking on "For Those Whose Hats Are Too Small," said some of the United States' enemies and even some of its friends have displayed arrogance.

"I sometimes think that Mr. de Gaulle falls into that category — men who play God," the minister said.

People In The News

WASHINGTON (AP) — Lynda Johnson and her favorite escort had a Valentine date at the theater Sunday night.

The President's daughter, 20, and David Lefevre, a New York broker, attended "The Roar of the Greasepaint — The Smell of the Crowd," a Broadway-bound musical now playing at the National Theater.

MADRID (AP) — Robert Moses, president of the New York World's Fair, arrived Sunday in Madrid for a visit.

During his stay, Moses is expected to present the Fair's gold medal to Gen. Francisco Franco in recognition of Spain's contribution to the exposition, which begins its second year April 21.

NEW YORK (AP) — Mrs. Joseph P. Kennedy, mother of the late president, left New York by plane Sunday en route to Athens to open the John F. Kennedy Memorial Library exhibit.

COPENHAGEN (AP) — Denmark's new ambassador to the United States will be Torben Roenne, it was announced today in Copenhagen.

Roenne, now stationed in Oslo, will replace Count Knuth Winterfeldt, who has been ambassador since 1958.

Says Russians Are Catching Up To U.S.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gen. Curtis E. LeMay, who retired two weeks ago as Air Force chief of staff, says the United States is "still far stronger than the Russians" in air strength but "they are catching up."

"Our relative strength is not as great now as it was, say five years ago," LeMay said in an interview on NBC's "Sunday" television show. "There has been, I think, a narrowing of the gap."

Expel Tanzanian Diplomat In Protest Of Yanks' Ouster

DAR ES SALAAM, Tanzania (AP) — Relations between Tanzania and the United States deteriorated further Monday after the United States expelled a Tanzanian diplomat and the African nation called its ambassador home from Washington.

"We are as much a sovereign state as is the United States," the Tanzanian government said in a statement Sunday night. "We do not bully and we do not like being bullied."

President Julius Nyerere summoned Ambassador Othman Shariif home Sunday after the United States announced the expulsion of Tanzania's No. 2 diplomat in Washington, Herbert Katua. The pair are Tanzania's only diplomats in Washington.

IN RETALIATION
The U.S. action was in retaliation for Tanzania's expulsion of two American diplomats last month on charges of subversive activities.

The U.S. State Department said Sunday that "a thorough investigation" uncovered no basis for the charge against the expelled Americans. They were Frank Carlucci III, consul-general on the island of Zanzibar; and Robert Gordon, counselor of the U.S. Embassy in Dar es Salaam, the capital of Tanzania.

The United States called Ambassador William Leonhart home from Dar es Salaam two weeks ago for consultations.

CHARGES FALSE
The State Department said it told Tanzania on Jan. 25 that the charges against Gordon and Carlucci were of "wholly mistaken character" but the African nation declined to "provide evidence to substantiate the allegation."

"In view of these circumstances," the State Department continued, "the United States felt compelled to ask for the departure of Katua within a reasonable time."

The Tanzania government charged that Washington had given it an ultimatum to produce evidence to support its charges against Gordon and Carlucci or else Katua would be expelled.

"The president and government of Tanzania do not give way to threats or ultimatums," the statement said.

YOUNG NATION
It added that President Nyerere had told the United States that neither Ambassador Leonhart nor the U.S. government was involved in the charges against Gordon and Carlucci.

Tanzania, a nation of 10.5 million, was formed last year by the merger of Tanganyika and the neighboring island of Zanzibar. Tanganyika is a former British colony and Zanzibar a former British protectorate.

worried about age?

here's truth about hormones for face, neck and hands

NEW YORK (Special) — Reams have been written about hormones. Will they make women of 75 look 16 again? Absolutely not. Will they make women of 60 feel like they were 20 again?

To know the truth about hormones you need to learn just two simple facts: (1) The beauty of a woman's skin starts breaking down as signs of age begin, because the female organs fail to supply enough estrogenic hormones to feed the skin—less and less as you grow older. (2) Estrogenic hormones can be supplied to the skin by rubbing on a penetrating formula containing the hormones.

Here is a test reported in a scientific journal, one of many that showed similarly sensational results: Twenty-five women applied hormones to one side of the face and neck, and to one hand. On the other side and the other hand, a similar preparation containing no hormones was applied the same way.

These are the reports in simple words: Skin lines (or dry-skin wrinkles) quickly dimmed or disappeared from sight as creases and hollows filled out.

Blotches and "old-age freckles" faded on hands, face and neck.

Skin was softer, clearer, seemed to lose its chronic dryness and take on a revived freshness and vitality. All these amazing things happened on the side where the hormones were used. Meanwhile no comparable changes occurred on the other side. The same withered, lifeless complexion.

Now to select a good estrogenic hormone preparation, here is what you need to know: The strength of the hormone preparation must appear on the label! The recommended monthly allotment for the skin is 20,000 International Units. The base should be as rich as possible in penetrating Sesame Oil and moisturizing Lanolin and when "rubbed in" your skin should not feel greasy or sticky. On first application, your skin should feel a radiant glow of revitalized youthfulness and refreshment.

An extra good buy in hormone products today is a preparation called HORMONEX Beauty Serum. It is made by a trustworthy 50-year-old laboratory.

Prisoner For Two Years Seeks Freedom Through U.S. District Court Today

HARRISBURG (AP) — The long, winding legal trail of a child custody case involving Jack Goulding, in jail since 1962, takes an important turn today.

A hearing is scheduled in U. S. District Court here on a petition filed by Goulding's attorney, asking that he be released from jail on grounds that his constitutional rights are being violated.

Goulding, 35, was placed in Franklin County Jail in Chambersburg in November, 1962, for contempt of court after he failed to obey a child custody order.

Goulding has been in jail since. Judge Chauncey DePuy has issued the order directing Goulding to give custody of his son, Benjamin, 9, to his ex-wife, Mrs. Thelma Goulding.

COULD NOT COMPLY
Goulding had contended that he could not comply with the order since, he said, his son had been residing at the home of his paternal grandmother in Hagerstown, Md.

Two weeks ago, a Maryland court granted temporary custody of the boy to his mother. Since then both have been residing in Chambersburg.

At that time, counsel for Goulding petitioned Judge DePuy for Goulding's release. Judge DePuy has been considering this petition.

TEMPORARY ORDER
Mrs. Goulding, noting that the Maryland custody order was only temporary, opposed the petition. Her attorney, George S. Black, contended that she still might lose custody of her son.

The writ of habeas corpus filed in federal court here by attorney G. Thomas Miller charged that Goulding was being held hostage by a court that no longer had jurisdiction in the case.

Although Mrs. Goulding has temporary custody of the boy, the case is still subject to review by the Maryland Circuit Court.

KEEPS CHILD
Benjamin had been residing with his grandmother, Mrs. Iva Johnson, for a considerable time at her residence in Hagerstown, a few miles south of Chambersburg.

Goulding once was released temporarily from jail to try and get his son back, but his mother, standing by the door with a small American flag, refused to give him the boy.

The Gouldings had another child, Carol Joy, 6, but she has been residing with her mother all the while.

DOUGLAS PARTY DESCENDS ICY MOUNTAIN SIDE

By HOWARD GRAVES
ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. (AP) — "You learn to walk that canyon with great respect," Supreme Court Justice William O. Douglas declared late Monday night after descending a treacherous mountain trail.

Douglas and four others spent nearly nine hours negotiating icy LaLuz Canyon trail down the west face of Sandia Mountain east of Albuquerque. In the summer, it normally takes a hiker about two hours to descend from the 10,600-foot mountain.

USED SNOWSHOES
"The treacherous going slowed us up," the 66-year-old veteran hiker said as he peeled off his heavy outer clothing in a hotel lobby. Douglas and his party snowshoed down the mountain trail.

A bright moon and the lights of metropolitan Albuquerque helped guide the party to a campground where Forest Service officials and newsmen met them.

He said there was a snowfield which he estimated at 500 feet across at one point along the trail. "At the end of it," he said, "there was a 500-to 600-foot drop into the canyon. We used ropes to cross it."

Douglas said the sun shone throughout the day. The temperature was below freezing.

EXPERIMENTAL HIKER
"We all had spills and we all were very tired. But I don't think I am out of breath. I stay in pretty good condition. I hike 20 to 30 miles a week in Washington."

The party had coffee and beef jerky during rest stops in the descent.

With Douglas were Fred H. Kennedy, Albuquerque, regional forester of the southwestern region, U.S. Forest Service; Pat Murray, supervisor of Cibola National Forest; John Blackwood, a forest ranger, and Robert Nordhaus, Albuquerque attorney, and a law student from Yale University.

Douglas said he was considering writing a book about mountains in the Southwest and was getting a first-hand look while enroute to Los Angeles for a speech Wednesday night.

POLITICS IS "BUSTIN' OUT" ALL OVER U. S.

By JACK BELL
WASHINGTON (AP) — It's a little early even for the crocuses, but politics is bustin' out all over.

Consider these random weekend developments:
Sen. Frank J. Lausche, D-Ohio, disdained a demand of the Ohio AFL-CIO in the union's weekly "News and Views" that he be read out of the Democratic party. The AFL-CIO said he votes more with the Republicans than Senate GOP Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois.

JAB AT KENNEDY
Rep. Gerald R. Ford of Michigan, the House Republican leader, called on actor Ronald Reagan to stay in his California backyard if he seeks political office.

Speaking in Springfield, Ill., Ford said Reagan made a great impact in Michigan, Illinois and other states with campaign speeches for GOP presidential candidate Barry Goldwater. But, Ford told a news conference, "we Republicans don't believe in carpet-bagging like the Democrats do."

The evident object of Ford's gibe, Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y., added nothing new to his current political feud with New York State Democratic leaders who are allied with Mayor Robert F. Wagner of New York City.

JAVITS MAY RUN
One of these, state Sen. Joseph Zaretzki Saturday accused Kennedy of "trying to take over the legislature in New York."

But there was fresh speculation that Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., might seek the Republican nomination to oppose Wagner. As a Republican who carried New York City in his race for re-election in 1962, Javits would be considered a powerful opponent for the Democratic mayor.

In next door New Jersey, Sen. Clifford P. Case still was stepping a possible bid for the Republican nomination for governor.

In Oregon, Democratic Sen. Maurice Neuberger, announced she will run again in 1966. Sen. Neuberger, who was married last year to a Boston psychiatrist, expressed surprise that anyone would doubt that she wants to remain in the Senate. Republican Gov. Mark O. Hatfield is expected to be her opponent.

BURCH BLAMES NEWSMEN
In Salt Lake City, retiring GOP National Chairman Dean Burch blamed the news media, in part, for Goldwater's defeat last November.

Burch said Goldwater ran on sound conservative principles but "we were never able to cut through a mass communications filter that turned an almost excessive candor on the part of our candidate into the appearance, at least, of radicalism and irresponsibility."

Thus the sprouting continued in the political seedbed.

West Germans Drop Intelligence Head

BERLIN (AP) — Heinz Weichmann, director of German counterintelligence in West Berlin, has been dropped from his post for failing to inform his superiors fully about developments at a brothel that was a spy center.

Informed sources said Weichmann did not report underworld rumors that highly placed politicians were visitors at the brothel.

ISRAELIS MEET TO REASSESS BONN DECISION

By ERIC GOTTGETREU
JERUSALEM, Israel (AP) — The Israeli Parliament called on the government Monday night to reassess its relationship with West Germany because of the Bonn government's decision to cut off arms aid to Israel.

Bonn announced the move in an effort to dissuade the United Arab Republic from recognizing Communist East Germany.

By a vote of 54-26, the Israeli Parliament adopted a resolution expressing "astonishment and indignation" at the West German decision and describing it as a surrender to Egypt's President Gamal Abdel Nasser.

REFUSE MONEY OFFER
Premier Levi Eshkol said Israel would not accept West Germany's offer of money for the $15 million worth of undelivered arms. Bonn agreed in 1960 to ship $80 million worth of arms to Israel in addition to $825 million in reparations for crimes committed against the Jews by the Nazis.

"The account still pending between the Jewish people and the German people — an account written in blood — goes far beyond the limits of the political and material spheres," Eshkol said.

NASSER PRESSURES
Nasser has been pressuring the West Germans to halt their arms shipments to Israel. Last month he announced plans for a six-day state visit to Egypt by Communist East Germany's President Walter Ulbricht.

West Germany claims the visit and the red-carpet welcome planned for Ulbricht will be tantamount to de facto recognition of the East German regime. The West German government threatened Monday to cut off about $190 million in aid grants to Egypt if Ulbricht's Feb. 24 visit comes off. Bonn did not renew a previous threat to break off diplomatic relations.

King Hussein of Jordan arrived in Cairo Monday on a long-planned visit, and informants in Bonn and Amman said he carried a West German re-

filter that turned an almost excessive candor on the part of our candidate into the appearance, at least, of radicalism and irresponsibility."

Thus the sprouting continued in the political seedbed.

Rebel Holdouts
Surrender To Army

VIENTIANE, Laos. (AP) — The last organized remnant of rebel police chief Siho Lamphouthakoul's once powerful police force has surrendered to government forces, a military spokesman said today.

The rebel holdouts, one lieutenant and 60 special frontier policemen, will be flown to Savannakhet for integration into army units, the spokesman said.

Siho's national police was crushed and dissolved after a bloody showdown in Vientiane quest to Nasser asking him either to cancel Ulbricht's visit or tone down the reception for him. There was no sign in Cairo that Nasser would agree to the West German demands.

Mr. and Mrs. Ervin G. Reaver, Frederick St., Taneytown, celebrated their golden wedding anniversary Saturday at a reception in St. Joseph Hall with about 175 relatives and friends. The affair was arranged by their children. Mr. and Mrs. Reaver were married February 3, 1915, in the Lutheran parsonage, Westminster, by the Rev. William H. Metrick. They are the parents of five children, Mrs. Dorothy Wentz, Hanover; Mrs. Mary Wetzel, Mrs. Helen Eimert, Sheridan E. and Glenn Reaver, all of Taneytown. There are 12 grandchildren and 29 great-grandchildren.

U. S. Fishermen Defect To Cuba

HAVANA (AP) — "We are tired with the way things are in the United States," said a spokesman for three American shrimp fishermen — all ex-convicts — who have asked for political asylum in Cuba.

The spokesman was Ernest Welch Bishop, 52, of Biloxi, Miss. He appeared at a news conference Monday with the other two defectors, Dale Allen West, 28, and John Perry Clark, 20, both of Washington State.

The three said they intentionally beached a 57-foot shrimp boat which they had been hired to operate because "we wanted to live and work in Cuba." They sailed from Key West, Fla., Feb. 6 and went aground Feb. 10 off northwest Cuba.

27 BELOW ZERO HITS HIBBING

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Below - zero weather again stung the snow-covered areas in seven Midwest states today but storms which swept sections of the southern and central Plains ended.

The core of the arctic air centered in northern Minnesota where the mercury dropped to 27 below zero in Hibbing. Sub-zero temperatures also covered sections of the Dakotas, Nebraska, Iowa, Wisconsin and Upper Michigan. Heavy snow fell throughout the areas last week.

The cold air headed eastward and southward.

Snow and gusty winds swept areas in Kansas and the Oklahoma and northern Texas Panhandle region Monday but the storms tapered off after a few hours. Some of the cold air dipped southward to the Texas border.

Precipitation across the nation was light, the Weather Bureau reported. More light rain splashed the Pacific Northwest, with snow in mountain areas.

Three Pay $3
To Steal $3

DENVER, Colo. (AP) — Three men dropped in at the Mayan Theater to catch the late show Monday night.

Each paid the one-dollar admission fee.

Shortly after they were inside the theatre, reported manager Bill Marx, 28, two of them

Feb. 3. Siho and right-wing Gen. Phoumi Nosavan, a deputy premier, fled to Thailand.

MOM CROSSES U. S. IN 'COPTER

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gay Maher, a 37-year-old mother of three, hopes to complete today the first solo helicopter flight by a woman across the United States.

"This is really the way to see the country," Mrs. Maher said Monday night at a National Aviation Club reception given by fellow members of the Whirly Girls, an association of women helicopter pilots.

Mrs. Maher was to take off later today on the last leg of the trip to her home, Medford, N.J., some 20 miles east of Philadelphia. The ocean-to-ocean journey started Feb. 6 at Culver City, Calif.

The $25,000 helicopter she is using is being delivered from the Hughes plant in Culver City to a customer in New Jersey.

Mrs. Maher said her husband, Pat, a magazine editor, approved of the flight as did her children, Nickie, 13; Mike, 12, and Candy, 10.

ACTORS AGREE TO CLOSE PLAY

ROME (AP) — A group of Italian actors bowed to a city government ban on "The Deputy" today after giving one performance of the controversial play behind the locked doors of a Rome bookstore.

The Rome prefecture banned the play by West German writer Rolf Hochhuth after the Vatican radio and newspaper attacked efforts by Gian Maria Volonte and a group of actors to stage the play. It questions whether Pope Pius XII did all he could to save the Jews from the Nazis.

In banning the play, the prefecture cited the 1929 Lateran Concordat, which established relations between the government of Italy and the Vatican State. It recognizes a special status for Rome as the center of Roman Catholicism and obliges the Italian state to protect the papacy from "public offense and injury."

YANK CENTER IS SEIZED BY INDONESIANS

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP) — The Indonesian government took over the American cultural center "temporarily" Monday after a morning of Communist-inspired, anti-American demonstrations which ended without violence.

The U.S. Information Agency director, Paul Neilson, said Indonesian authorities had assured the embassy the center, which includes a USIA library, would be returned in a few days.

The demonstrators, who were protesting the U.S. air strikes against North Viet Nam, pasted a notice on the outside wall of the cultural center saying the Communist-inspired Youth Front had taken over the center for a student headquarters.

The center was closed for the day.

WAS SACKED
Several thousand Indonesians took part in the demonstrations before the center and the U.S. Embassy. Indonesian police maintained a heavy guard at both buildings.

The demonstrators also climbed the walls of the cultural center and hoisted the Indonesian flag.

The center and its library were sacked last December by demonstrators protesting the American rescue operation in the Congo. Another crowd ransacked the American library in the east Java city of Surabaya, and local authorities closed USIA operations in the area.

pulled out pistols. Then the men forced their way into the office and robbed Marx.

They escaped with three one-dollar bills.

Assembly's Balance Of Power To Shift To City

HARRISBURG (AP) — The balance of power in the Pennsylvania General Assembly will shift this year from rural counties to those near the large population areas.

This change in power will reverse the trend set 90 years ago by the state constitution.

The reason, simply, is reapportionment.

Not so simple will be the actual realignment of the state's legislative districts.

MOVING SLOWLY

Both the Democratic-controlled House and the Republican-controlled Senate are moving slowly and deliberately even though they face a Sept. 1 deadline.

It all began last June 15 when the U.S. Supreme Court issued its historic "one man, one vote" rule.

Stated briefly, this means that both houses of states having bicameral legislatures must have districts with equal populations.

The Pennsylvania Supreme Court then held that sections of the state constitution limiting any one county to eight senators and providing that every county have at least one vote in the house of representatives were in violation of the 14th amendment to the U.S. Constitution.

'4 ACTS OUT

At the same time, the state court ruling, issued Sept. 29, also held that the legislative reapportionment acts signed into law in January, 1964, were unconstitutional.

The court allowed the election of the current Senate and House under the January, 1964, law but dictated that the legislature must draft new reapportionment statutes on the "one man, one vote" principle.

The state court imposed a deadline of September 1. The implication was that the court would reapportion if the legislature did not accomplish the task.

SEEK AMENDMENT

Pennsylvania is only one of 24 states under court orders to redistrict. A dozen states already have reapportioned themselves.

A struggle is taking shape in the U.S. Congress for a constitutional amendment that would permit state legislatures to reapportion one of its legislative bodies on factors other than population.

Several Pennsylvania politicians, particularly Republicans, have voiced their support of such an amendment.

TO LOSE POWER

Meanwhile, Pennsylvania's rural counties will lose much of the once powerful voice they had in the legislature.

The State Supreme Court found that "gross disparities" exist in the populations of 37 counties, all of which have one vote in the House of Representatives.

The state constitution requires that the population be divided by a minimum of 200 to determine the legislative ratio. Based on the 1960 census the ratio would be 56,597 per district.

The opinion also noted that the Senate had similar population disparities.

MAY SPLIT COUNTIES

The Senate population ratio should be 226,387, obtained by dividing the 50 senatorial districts into the state's 1960 population.

The guidelines mean that comparatively large numbers of counties which have had their own representative will now have to share one among them.

In some cases counties may even have to be split to achieve the equal districts. In others, even smaller political subdivisions, including townships and boroughs may have to be divided.

MAY CROSS LINES

Both the court and the state attorney general have urged the legislature to avoid such divisions wherever possible, but the court added:

"We must emphasize that, if necessary, any political subdivision or subdivisions may be divided or combined in the formation of districts where the political subdivision or subdivisions may be divided or combined in the formation of districts where the population principle cannot otherwise be satisfied."

Chief Justice John C. Bell took part in the State Supreme Court's unanimous decision but he said he was deeply disturbed and dismayed by the U.S. court's initial ruling.

REJECT SCRANTON PLAN

Although the Democrats controlled the House they have directed the chamber's Committee on Elections and Apportionment, which will handle the legislation, to hold a series of eight hearings around the state to get as many views as possible.

The Republican-controlled Senate Reapportionment Committee has appointed a bipartisan six-member subcommittee to gather data and it also may hold public hearings.

Legislators on both sides of the political fence, but most emphatically the Democrats, have rejected Gov. Scranton's suggestion for a bipartisan committee including non-legislators to try to reach a solution.

A Lovelier You

If a neater calf is on your self-improvement program, get busy on the routines below. Repeat them daily, and it's a promise that spring's short skirts and lacy stockings will not find your leg-line wanting.

The first routine reduces the calf. The second has a firming action. A slim, firm contour just about adds up to perfection.

1. Sit on a carpeted floor, with legs straight out and together. Pointing toes, bend feet backward as far as possible and hold position. Now slowly swing legs apart by sliding calves along floor; slide back to starting position. Relax and repeat 10 times.

2. Seated on floor with legs out and together, bend feet forward. Raise right leg and swing it from side to side in a wide arc 10 times. Perform with left leg. Relax and repeat entire routine two to five times. Work for increased speed and rhythm.

There's an unexpected dividend in the second exercise. It limbers as well as firms the legs and your carriage benefits thereby. Your steps are smoother and more rhythmic.

My model friends say that in these days of short-short skirts a gliding stride is more than ever essential. Just watch the girls go by, and you'll see why.

MISSILE SHIP TAKES TO SEA

NORFOLK, Va. (AP) — The guided missile destroyer Claude V. Ricketts, manned by sailors from six nations, sailed Monday on her first regular deployment with the U.S. Navy.

The Ricketts, America's prototype for the planned multilateral force, slipped away from a pier at the Norfolk Naval Base at 8:30 a.m. Manning the rails as the trim ship moved out were many of the 255 American and foreign crewmen aboard.

Once at sea, the Ricketts will rendezvous with 12 other 2nd Fleet ships sailing this week to relieve a like number of 6th Fleet ships in the Mediterranean. Just behind the Ricketts, two ships sailed from here for the Mediterranean, the guided missile frigate Dewey and the guided missile destroyer Barney.

There was no ceremony as the Ricketts or the other ships sailed. Only a few dependents were on the pier to say goodbye. For the past eight months, Ricketts and the mixed crew have been training for the "show-me" assignment.

Delay Hearings On Red Consular Pact

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. J. W. Fulbright says he doesn't know when his Senate Foreign Relations Committee will get around to hearings on the U.S.-Soviet consular treaty.

The Arkansas Democrat said in an interview the committee has a heavy workload on other matters.

The treaty, signed last June 1 and submitted to the Senate 11 days later, would authorize negotiations for the Soviet Union to open consular offices in such cities as New York, Chicago and San Francisco in return for similar U.S. offices in the Soviet Union.

VIENNA, Austria (AP) — A man held as a suspect in the slaying of his wife turned out to be a spy for Communist East Germany, the Interior Ministry said Friday night.

The announcement said the espionage activities of Johann Austerhuber, 40, an Austrian mechanic, came to light while he was questioned about the death last December of his wife. She was killed with an iron bar in the basement of their home.

ATHENS, Greece (AP) — Airport police Monday arrested a Greek couple accused of trying to smuggle over two million drachmae ($66,000) worth of currency out of Greece.

NAHA, Okinawa (AP) — A Naha fire Monday began salvaging the freighter Union Pacific which ran aground last December off Naha port.

Her Australian captain, H.V. Blomberg, and his wife drowned while attempting to debark in high seas.

The ship will be scrapped.

HOLLYWOOD'S BUZZING WITH "OSCAR" TALK

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — The whole town's talking about: The growing Oscar fever; the improvement of Julie Andrews' chances to win the big prize, especially since her "Golden Globe" appearance; The foreign press award to "Circus World" as best song of the year over "Dear Heart" and "Chim Chim Cheree";

The tentative schedules for next year's television season; The chance that "Dr. Kildare" may split a la "Peyton Place" with a half-hour twice a week; The reported death knells for such series as "Perry Mason," "Mr. Novak," "The Defenders," "The Doctors and the Nurses," "Rawhide," "Slaters' People," "Hazel," "Bing Crosby Show," "Tycoon" and many more;

CBS joining the other two networks in showing old movies in prime time; the pair of wartime prison camp series — CBS "Hogan's Heroes" and NBC "Camp 44" ABC pushing a success to the limit with "Peyton Place" twice a week and "The Girl from Peyton" twice a week; The boom for camera-trick artists: more supernatural series "I Dream of Genie," "Haunted," etc. on the 1965-66 schedule;

Gary Lewis' lesson in how to be successful in show business by hardly trying; Jerry's boy has the No. 3 record "This Diamond Ring," and his combo is a hot item on the rock 'n' roll circuit; the flock of James Bond imitations being planned;

Joseph E. Levine's hapless debut as a legit backer: the one-night Broadway stand of "Kelly" at a record $650,000 loss; the growing censorship of movie ads by American newspapers; The bullish outlook at Disney's, with "Mary Poppins" pushing profits to a new high; Jack Lemmon's escape from his leering image with the imaginative, hilarious "How To Murder Your Wife."
